

Productivity Solutions

AI-powered communication intelligence & automation. Actionable. Enterprise-grade.

Benefits

1. Enterprise visibility and faster decisions

Provide leaders and managers a real-time view into client conversations across the organization. Transform messaging activity into structured topics and trends, to prioritize actions and decisions faster.

2. From communication to action

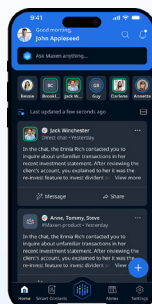

Trigger business workflows directly from messaging conversations. Eliminate manual follow-ups and disconnected systems so work moves forward automatically from every client interaction.

3. Employee productivity

Enable employees to work faster and deliver better client experiences with AI-powered communication intelligence, without sacrificing governance, security, and enterprise control.

LeapXpert Signals

Maxen™

Core capabilities

LeapXpert Signals - Enterprise communication intelligence

Gain a live, visual pulse on enterprise-wide messaging. Signals securely processes conversations into topics and trends, so leaders can identify activity spikes, opportunities, and emerging risks in real time or through historical analysis.

Communication Workflows - Conversation-driven execution

Automate business processes directly from messaging channels. Transform conversations into structured actions such as client authentication, approvals, monetization, renewals, and document processing—without leaving the messaging experience. Workflows are configurable by business teams and fully traceable with audit-ready logs and dashboards.

Maxen™ - Front-office client intelligence

Equip employees with real-time summaries, key topics, sentiment, relationship context, and next actions across messaging, email, and calendar activity. With AI-powered message drafting and “Ask Maxen” chat, teams respond faster within the enterprise control.

Enterprise-grade. Future-proof.
